A Front Page for Liberty

Imagine that you are the editor of new newspaper in your community. For its first issue, you want to dedicate the entire front page to freedom of expression and the press.

- First, decide a name for the newspaper.
- Then decide what headlines you will include on the front page to emphasize the theme you have chosen.
- Discuss and decide what images (photographs, drawings, comic strips, etc) are appropriate.
- Finally, write a small opinion piece in which you explain the value that freedom of expression and the press have for democracy.
- Send your work to "MY FRONT PAGE" at this newspaper

PRICE   TITLE   LOGO   DATE

INDEX

The Gazette

HEADLINE

CAPTION

Journalists in the Firing Line
3 May